HABITS OF THE HEART- LAND

Changing Aspirations and Concepts

Presentations and papers may be directed toward changes in the conception of the American as reflected in history, literature, popular culture or the pictorial media. Possible sections include:

- Attitudes toward the environment
- Changes in religious expression and race relations
- Perceptions of Indian culture
- Plains literature and culture
- A sexual peace? (reactions to the feminist movement)
- Ideals of success and social mobility
- Freedom and life-style
- Individualism and society

Presentations and papers on other topics in American history; literature; philosophy; political science; anthropology; sociology; geography; and the arts will be organized into appropriate groupings.

The journal, AMERICAN STUDIES, welcomes submission of articles developed from conference presentations.

“Our problems today are not just political. They are moral and have to do with the meaning of life.”
