

Why Settle for Less than the Journal of Journals?

asks Randal Maurice Jelks

Let's face it! You don't always get AMSJ unless you ask for it.

And it's worth asking for.

For this is the acknowledged Journal of Journals—the journal smart people love to subscribe to and libraries love to hold.

Smooth, flawless ... AMSJ makes the best reading all year round.

Read alongside a martini, you love the articles, the review essays and book reviews.

AMSJ leaves you breathless!

Randal Jelks, Editor

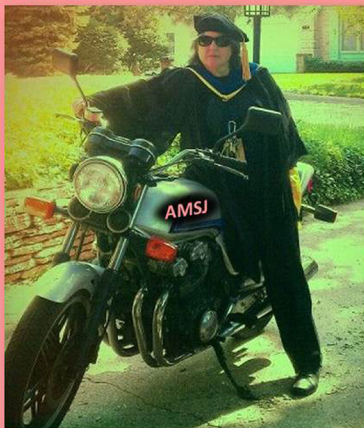

On the Road, or in my Robe,

AMSJ is at my side.

Read
it.

Be it.

Ride.

Sherrie Tucker, somewhere, 2014

Sherrie Tucker, Editor

Chris Robinson, Assistant Editor

Rebecca Hill, Editorial Board Member

“Davarian Baldwin, Editorial Board Member”
Photo by VisionMerge Production

Carol Mason, Editorial Board Member

When only the best ingredients will do.
John Gennari recommends AMSJ.

John Gennari, Editorial Board Member

Good morning, Mark Hulsether.

Start your day with the
AMSJ Summer Reading Issue

Mark Hulsether, Editorial Board Member

Tanya Golash-Boza, Editorial Board Member

Keith Eggener, Editorial Board Member