The 26th annual Northeast Conference on the Teaching of Foreign Languages will meet from Thursday afternoon through Sunday morning, April 19-22, 1979, at the Washington Hilton Hotel in Washington, D.C. Paul D. Cincinnato of the Farmingdale (N.Y.) Public Schools, 1979 Conference Chairman, has announced the theme—as THE FOREIGN LANGUAGE LEARNER IN TODAY'S CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT.

The customary division of the Conference theme into three components will provide the basis for the Conference sessions as well as the printed 1979 Northeast Conference Reports which are published prior to the annual meeting. The Reports authors and their chapter topics are:

Wilga M. Rivers of Harvard University—

EDUCATIONAL GOALS OF TODAY VIS-A-VIS THE FOREIGN LANGUAGE LEARNER;

Carol Hosenfeld of SUNY at Buffalo—

GOALS AND LEARNING STYLES OF THE FOREIGN LANGUAGE LEARNER;

Gilbert A. Jarvis of The Ohio State University—

GOALS AND TEACHING STRATEGIES OF THE FOREIGN LANGUAGE TEACHER.

The Conference will again feature the largest exhibit of textbooks, teaching aids, programs, and services to be found under one roof with any foreign language educator's meeting. Additionally, presentations of discussion panels, workshops, and practica, the 4th annual Modern Language Film Festival, the Northeast Conference Career Counseling Service, and the best opportunity of the year to discover the state-of-the-art in foreign language teaching will all be part of the 1979 Northeast Conference next April. Be sure to make room on your calendar and in your budget to join the 2,800 other members of our profession who will be meeting together in Washington at the nation's oldest and largest Conference devoted to foreign language pedagogy.
