INTERNATIONAL EVENTS

News of FIPLV

The fifteenth International Congress of the FIPLV will take place in Helsinki (Finland) in July 1985. A brochure "Preliminary Announcement and Call for Papers" has just been published and is available in English, French, and German. The organizers have announced, however, that the FIPLV World Congress has no restrictions in language use. It concentrates on all languages, and papers can be read in any language.

In November 1983, the General Assembly of FIPLV elected a new Executive Committee in Vienna (Austria) for the period of 1984 to 1986. President E.M. Batley was re-elected. The three Vice-Presidents are from Nigeria, Finland and the German Democratic Republic. A complete list of members of the Executive Committee can be obtained by writing to: FIPLV Head Office, Seestrasse 247, CH-8038 Zurich, Switzerland.

Activities of the International Association of Teachers of English as a Foreign Language [IATEFL]

Since September 1982, the IATEFL has published six newsletters, comprising roughly 365 pages, exclusive of advertisements, and has held one international conference at St. Mary's College, Twickenham, England, attended by 500 participants. The theme of the conference was "Motives and incentives in the learning of English as a foreign or second language". Over 90 sessions of the four-day conference were based on aspects of this theme, and summaries both of the main speakers' talks and ensuing discussion, and of small-group activities, appeared in the Newsletters, which also publish short articles and items of news.

The Association's eighteenth international conference will be held, jointly with the English section of the VLLT (the Dutch national multilingual member of the FIPLV) at Groningen, Netherlands, from 25 to 27 April 1984. Total participation is to be restricted to about 400, of whom half are to be from outside the Netherlands. The conference theme is "Ways in which teachers teach and learners learn". Dutch teachers of English may obtain further information from Drs. A.J. van Essen, Rijksuniversiteit Groningen, Instituut voor Toegepaste Taalkunde, Grote Kruisstraat 2.1, Groningen, Netherlands, and other teachers of English from Mrs. B. Thomas, 87 Bennells Avenue, Tankerton, Whitstable, Kent CT5 2HR, England.

A short history of the Association appeared in Newsletter No. 75 (October 1982), of which a few copies are still available. Write to: IATEFL, 16 Alexandra Gardens, Hounslow, Middlesex TW2 4HU, England.

New P/H Portable Drill Recorder

First wireless, dual track laboratory lets students listen, respond, compare

Combining the convenience and flexibility of a wireless system with the drill capability previously available only in a wired laboratory, the new Portable Drill Recorder (PDR) from P/H Electronics lets students practice various programs without cables cluttering the room.

Each student can make a master recording from the program while at the same time recording responses on a separate track for comparison. New responses can be recorded as often as desired without disturbing the master copy.

For free literature or a no-obligation demonstration, contact the leading innovator and manufacturer of wireless learning and listening systems . . .

CALL FOR PROPOSALS FOR CONFERENCE PROGRAMS

Each year IALL sponsors presentations in conjunction with, but not limited to, the three major professional conferences: ACTFL, AECT, and the Northeast Conference. Papers on topics of interest to Learning Lab directors, as well as papers on the overall topic of mediated language instruction are being solicited for presentation at any appropriate professional conferences. Many IALL members are engaged in numerous projects that would be of interest to other media professionals. Please support your organization as well as your own professional growth by sharing your experience with your colleagues.

Please send proposals to:
