A 6-station audio-active language laboratory
for $490.

A Completely Self-Contained Laboratory

This unit accomodates six students and has two channels. In the picture, we have plugged it into a tape recorder, and all six students are working on the same lesson. Flip the switch, plug in another tape recorder, and you have two channels.

You can, if you wish, order this as a 4-station laboratory for only $380, and add two additional headsets at a later date.

This laboratory is battery-operated, self-contained, has no console, requires no installation, and does not tie up a $30,000 classroom.

The DDC Earphone/Microphone Amplified Headset

Contains its own transistorized amplifier with volume control. Headset is accoustically isolated for complete protection against outside noises, including the students sitting next to each other. The laboratory case acts as the storage container for the amplified hedsets. Pack it up, put it in a closet, and your classroom is available for the next subject. Entire 6-station laboratory weighs only 14 pounds.

Send For Free 16-Page Full Color Booklet

Entitled "Simplified Concepts in Language Laboratories," this booklet gives, in words and pictures, full information on our low-cost language laboratories, including an audio-active individual Student Practice Unit for only $90. Partial list of contents: 1. How the DDC Language Laboratory helps the student in class. 2. How to use this laboratory in your classroom. 3. How to schedule assignments with the DDC Laboratory. 4. Special features of the laboratory. 5. Which laboratory should you select. Return the enclosed coupon today.

WIRELESS

- ◀ This laboratory has no wires.
- ◀ There is no console.
- ◀ There is no installation.
- ◀ There is nothing on the floor.
- ◀ There is nothing on the Student's desk.

The complete cost of everything you see in this room is $190. The tape recorder costs $100, the transmission loop around the wall costs $30, the headset costs only $60. It is self-contained, battery-operated, audio-active with amplified microphone. Everything is in the headset.

The sound is transmitted to the student's wireless headset from the loop around the wall. How? There is a little receiver built right into the student's headset.

The only console you have is the tape recorder or phonograph. Any one will do. There is no installation — just paste the thin wire loop around the wall as you would a piece of Scotch tape. You do it yourself.

Now you can provide audio-active (listen, respond, compare) laboratory equipment for all your students for only $60 per headset, and you don't tie up a $30,000 classroom.

Use the coupon below to send for our free 20-page booklet, describing in words and pictures, this extremely low cost and highly practical wireless laboratory, and how it sets up in your classroom.
