

MICHAEL J. MOREL

American Kestrels (Falco sparverius) have been documented as predators of 12 different species of West Indian lizards. This Kestrel has captured a Puerto Rican Ameiva (Ameiva exsul). See article on p. 8.

MICHAEL D. KERN

Guatemalan Beaded Lizards (Heloderma horridum charlesbogerti) are found only in the Motagua Valley of Guatemala. See article on p. 20, travelogue on p. 42, and "IRCF on the Move" on p. 61.