IGUANA NEWSBRIEFS

ALLAN'S CAYS ADVENTURE

I.I.S. member Geoff Smith and Lynne Yamaguchi got more than they bargained for on a recent iguana census in the Allan's Cays in the northern Exuma islands in the Bahamas. Both Geoff and Lynne are former students of Dr. John B. Iverson and were in the Bahamas to conduct the 1993 census in his place. The Allan's Cay Iguana, Cyclura cychlura inornata have been studied by John since 1980 (see I.T., vol. 1, no. 5). Working aboard the sailboat, the Good Fortune, they happened to be in the islands during "the mother of all storms to hit the East coast." One minute they were casually eating breakfast and the next battling a downpour and 50 knot winds. Tides were several feet above normal. Four boats were blown aground on the beach on Leaf Cay. One boat sideswiped the Good Fortune on it's way to the beach. In spite of all the excitement, 120 iguanas were captured and measured, down from 272 in 1992. Studying iguanas never was so exciting.

OH-No!

Apparently two albino Green iguanas have been hatched on a Columbian iguana farm. Bids are being accepted for the purchase of the animals. More to come...

UH-OH!

I.I.S. member Terry Gentry's mother-in-law became noticeably quiet when Deborah Neufeld phoned to let Terry know that she had his Cuban baby. She was quite relieved to find out that Deborah was referring to an iguana.

The I.I.S. will have a booth at the Annual National Reptile Breeders Expo in Orlando, Florida. The expo will be on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday August 13, 14, and 15th at the Twin Towers Hotel.

Central Florida Zoo hosted the Southeast Regional Conference of AAZPA (American Association of Zoological Parks and Aquariums) on 23 March 1993. Speaking at the Lizard Workshops were Walter Auffenburg, Jose Ottenwalder, and I.I.S. President Ehrig. Central Florida Zoo is a captive site for the Grand Cayman Blue Iguana, Cyclura nubila lewisi, and has much potential as a captive breeding facility for lizards.
