

William Bedford Clark, Editor

Luis F. Costa, Business Manager

South Central Review

The quarterly Journal of the South
Central Modern Language Association

The journal publishes articles written in English, on any aspect of literature, literary history, and language. Beginning its publication in 1984, the Review received the Certificate of Merit for a distinguished new learned journal for 1984 from The Conference of Editors of Learned Journals.

SCMLA members may submit essays for consideration and may participate in the convention program. Annual dues, which include a subscription to SCR, are $15.00; graduate students and retirees $5.00. Yearly subscriptions for institutions in the United States are $15.00; overseas $15.00.

Authors should submit manuscripts, accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope, to The Editor, Department of English, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-4238.

Errata

Yvonne Shafer's last name was misspelled in the last issue of JDTC.

Modern Philology

Its excitement makes it
essential to literary studies

Modern Philology provides you with the best of traditional literary and linguistic research. That's what has made it an essential tool for all scholars in the humanities since 1903.

Because it also offers the insights of new, promising scholars as well as those of established authors, MP gives you a balanced range of wisdom and fresh perspectives. That's what has made it exciting for more than eighty years.

Each issue of MP covers a wide chronological and substantive range, presenting original research in English and American literature, as well as in Continental and Latin American writings.

Exploring the range of texts, authors, and larger literary phenomena from the Middle Ages to the present has made MP a valuable resource in the humanities for decades.

Saving you time and effort, MP's review articles and book reviews will serve as an important tool in your own research. And MP brings you the latest discoveries in its Notes and Documents section, providing you with important new information as soon as it is available.

Modern Philology. Edited by Gwin J. Kolb and Edward W. Rosenheim. Published quarterly by The University of Chicago Press.

One-year rates: individuals $25.00; institutions $40.00; MLA individual members $15.00; Students with copy of ID $15.00. Outside USA add $2.00. Visa and MasterCard accepted. Send payment, purchase order, or complete charge card information to: The University of Chicago Press, Dept. SF7SA, P.O. Box 37005, Chicago, IL 60637.

7/86

College Literature

FOR THE TEACHER...

*FOR
THE SCHOLAR...*

- Who needs still another literary journal? Probably not you — if the new journal simply imitates established periodicals.
- Who needs College Literature? Quite possibly you — if you see yourself as a member of a professional guild whose contractual tasks make you a combined scholar-teacher, with considerable emphasis on teacher.
- Designed as a literary-pedagogical journal, College Literature publishes articles done by scholars and critics who deal with those literary works which are most commonly taught in American colleges and universities, those which form a loose canon of Western literary culture.
- College Literature is based firmly on the idea that substance precedes methodology. But it attempts from this point of view to bring the functions of scholarship, criticism, and teaching into mutual focus. Through the articles it publishes, it provides varied answers to an overriding question often ignored in literary publications: How can we directly use the special insights and information of bona fide experts in the actual teaching of classes?

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Issued three times a year. Subscriptions: $8.00 a year; $14.00 for two years in the U.S. Subscriptions for other countries, including postage: $10.00 a year; $18.00 for two years. Checks payable to College Literature Fund. Address: College Literature, Special Funds Office, West Chester University, West Chester, PA 19383.

CML seeks submissions from its subscribers on all aspects of Classical and Modern Literatures that reflect the knowledge and depth of the scholar's own discipline used to examine problems recurring in both a Classical and a Modern Literature.

Classical and Modern Literature:

A QUARTERLY®

CML's Spring issue will carry its annual

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF THE CLASSICAL TRADITION prepared by the Institute for the Classical Tradition. This will cover scholarship for the year 1985. You may wish to notify your library if it does not already subscribe. Previous bibliographies (5.3, 6.3, 7.3) are available.

CML Subscription

Please check one of the following:

	Individual	Institutions
1 year	$14.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	$16.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	AMOUNT _____
2 years	22.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	25.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	ENCLOSED _____
3 years	31.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	36.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	(U.S.)

Countries outside U.S. add $2.00 to each year's subscription to cover postage. Residents of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, and Wisconsin add appropriate Sales Tax.

CML is published in October, January, April, and July.

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

Address all correspondence, subscriptions, and submissions (SASE) to:

CML, Inc.
P.O. Box 629
Terre Haute, Indiana 47808-0629

Classical and Modern Literature:

A QUARTERLY®

Western American Literature

Western American Literature is a unique, scholarly journal published by the Western Literature Association in cooperation with Utah State University. Since 1966, articles in WAL have explored the literature of the American West. In addition, book reviews and notes keep WAL readers abreast of the current trends in western literature.

Individual rates:

- $14 per year membership in the Western Literature Association (includes subscription)
- $12 per year subscription only

Institutional rates:

$24 per year

Send check or money order to:

Treasurer, Western Literature Association
UMC 3200, Utah State University
Logan, UT 84322

CHRISTIANITY & Literature

THE JOURNAL OF THE
CONFERENCE ON CHRISTIANITY AND LITERATURE

The Conference on Christianity and Literature is a national organization of scholars interested in the relationship of Christianity and literature and is dedicated to scholarly excellence and fellowship among college-level teachers of literature. In addition to numerous regional meetings, an annual meeting is held in conjunction with the MLA convention.

ESSAYS: 3-5 scholarly articles each issue on individual writers and critical issues involving Christianity and literature

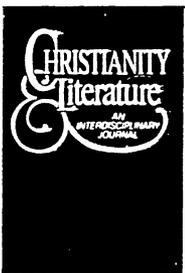

DIALOGUE: Informal discussions and statements

NOTICES AND PERSONALIA

REVIEWS: 8-12 reviews of scholarly works and other works of general interest

BIBLIOGRAPHY: Annotated quarterly bibliography of books and articles covering over 100 journals

POETRY

Please enroll me as a member of CCL. All members receive the quarterly Christianity and Literature.

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____

STATE _____

ZIP _____

Regular Membership:

U.S.A. — $10/year or $20 two years
Outside U.S.A. — $10/year or $20/two years

Libraries and Institutions:

U.S.A. — $15/year
Outside U.S.A. — $15 year

Please make out your check to Christianity and Literature and send it to Dr. James Barcus, Department of English, Baylor University, Waco, TX 76798.

American Literature

First published in 1929, long regarded as the leader in its field, American Literature is a quarterly of literary criticism, literary history, and bibliography, dealing with American authors, past and present, and their works. American Literature is published in cooperation with the American Literature Section of the Modern Language Association of America.

Duke University Press

6697 College Station Durham, NC 27708