

Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism

Fall 2003
Volume XVIII
Number 1

Contents

ARTICLES

- Acting Age on Stage: Age-Appropriate Casting, the Default Body,
and Valuing the Property of Having an Age
Margaret Morganroth Gullette 7
- From Carnival to Myth: Performing Nationhood in Pre-Civil War
New York
Elizabeth Reitz Mullenix 29
- Comic Form and Conservative Reaction: Hubert Henry Davies's
The Mollusc
Penny Farfan 45

PRAXIS

- Staging the Invisible: Giorgio Strehler and Luigi Pirandello
Mohammad Kowsar 59
- Just a Moment in Stoppard's Utopia
Maurice Yacowar 77

SUPPLEMENT

- Interpolating American Method Acting in 1950s Indonesia
Evan Darwin Winet 89

| | |
|---|-----|
| Stanislavsky, Smarana, and Bhāv: Acting Method as Religious Practice in Vrindavan, India David V. Mason | 107 |
| Opening the Actor's Spiritual Heart: The Zen Influence on Nō Training and Performance with Notes on Stanislavski and the Actor's Spirituality Kathryn Wylie-Marques | 131 |

This issue is dedicated to the memory of Bert O. States, who served as an Associate Editor for the journal from 1986 until his death in 2003.