

Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism

Fall 2007
Volume XXII
Number 1

Contents

Editor's Note Iris Smith Fischer	5
--	---

PARADIGMS

Theatre in the 'Engaged University': A Context for Habermas's Communicative Action Anne Berkeley	9
Some Memory Plays Before The 'Memory Play' Attilio Favorini	29

PRAXIS

"Staring Sightlessly": Proust's Presence in Beckett's Absence Clark Lunberry	53
Redefining the Way Theatre is Created and Performed: The Radical Inclusion of Suzan-Lori Parks's 365 Days/365 Plays Philip C. Kolin	65

THE FIELD

Forum on the 20th Anniversary of the Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism

John Gronbeck-Tedesco: A Look Back at Twenty Years of the Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism An Interview by Henry Bial	87
--	----

Inescapable Mimesis: JDTC in the Mortal Coil Herbert Blau	95
The Article, the Debate, the Book Les Essif	98
Thinking Otherwise in a Culture of Anxiety and Fear Michal Kobialka	100
In Appreciation of John Gronbeck-Tedesco Kent Neely	101
Managing Editor Is to Editor . . . Joy D. Richmond	103
Philosophical Reflection on the JDTC and John G-T Patricia Ybarra	105