

Viernes de Teatro Cubano Inaugurated in Miami

The theatre group Las Máscaras, directed by Alfonso Cremeta and Salvador Ugarte, who have been presenting for some year the best plays of the Spanish Peninsula in Miami, have just inaugurated in that city the Viernes de Teatro Cubano (Friday Cuban Theatre) with works of José Sánchez Boudy: Los apestados and Los asesinos, los asesinos. Because the Viernes de Teatro Cubano has experienced outstanding success, the Las Máscaras actors have announced forthcoming productions of works by Marcelo Salinas, Alvaro de Villa, José Cid-Pérez, Margarita Machado, Teté Casuso, Matías Montes, and other Cuban dramatists in exile.

—Woodrow Moore
Old Dominion University