

Bilingual Repertory Theatre Company

Bilingual theatre has been booming at Texas A&I. In February-March the Bilingual Repertory Theatre Company put on Historias para ser contadas and Milagro en el mercado viejo by Osvaldo Dragún in Spanish and English. These plays and La fiaca by Ricardo Talesnik were presented from March 15 to March 25 in Mexico City, Morelia, San Luis Potosí, and Monterrey. Later the group toured Texas, performing in San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Edinburg, and Houston.

Conferences

A Conversation on Latin American Theatre was to be held from November 15-17, 1974 at the State University College at Brockport. The program was to include panel discussions on various aspects of drama and theatre in Latin America, lecture demonstrations, and presentation of plays.

The Latin American Literary Review will hold a conference on "Women writers from Latin America" March 21-22, 1975 at Carnegie-Mellon University. There will be sessions on poetry, short fiction, novel, theatre, and non-fiction, as well as the presentation of a play and authors reading from their own works.
