Abraham Lincoln and the German Immigrants:
Turners and Forty-Eighters

By Frank Baron
The Society for German-American Studies was founded for the purpose of encouraging and advancing the scholarly study of the history, language, literature, and culture of the German element in the Americas. This includes coverage of the immigrants and their descendants from Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and other German-speaking areas of Europe. Members of the Society include representatives from various academic disciplines and others who share a common interest in German-American studies.

The Yearbook is published annually. The editor welcomes contributions in English, preferably, or German on all aspects of German-American studies from members of the Society. The manuscript should be prepared so that it can be read anonymously by the members of the Editorial Board, with the author's name appearing on a separate sheet only. For submission, four copies of the manuscript prepared in accordance with the University of Chicago Press Manual of Style are requested. All manuscripts and correspondence concerning the Yearbook should be addressed to William D. Keel (wkeel@ku.edu). Inquiries regarding book reviews for the Yearbook should be addressed to Susan M. Schürer (schurer@sunlink.net). The Newsletter appears three times a year. Items for the Newsletter should be submitted to Daniel Nuetzel and Claudia Grossmann (dnuetzel@iupui.edu or cgrossmann@iupui.edu).

The SGAS annual membership dues, which include subscription to the Yearbook and the Newsletter, are $30.00 for regular members. Membership applications to the Society for German-American Studies should be made to J. Gregory Redding (reddingg@wabash.edu). The Society for German-American Studies is open to membership from individuals, societies, libraries, and organizations.
